 v.
 Lee Max Barnett, Appellant

In the above-entitled matter the court filed its decision on May 4, 1998, because of the following extraordinary and compelling circumstances:

1. The size of the record (the clerk's and reporter's transcripts together total approximately 16,333 pages.)
2. The substitution of appointed counsel on appeal.
3. The necessity to grant, for good cause, twelve extensions of time to file the appellant's opening brief, seven extensions of time to file the respondent's brief, and seven extensions of time to file appellant's reply brief prior to filing of the decision.
4. The number and complexity of the issues.
5. The extensive briefing by the parties (totaling approximately 909 pages for all briefs submitted by appellant and respondent).
6. The necessity to consider and rule upon appellant's extensive motion to dismiss appellate counsel and related motions and requests (totaling approximately 750 pages) prior to the filing of the decision.
